September 9, 2009 -- The Governor's Honors Program (GHP) is pleased to announce that, effective with the 2009-2010 school year, home school students may be considered for participation in the program.

Home school parents and students interested in GHP should immediately contact the local system GHP coordinator for the school system in which they reside and to whom they report for attendance.

To view the list of local school system GHP coordinators, and to access general information pertaining to the program and the nomination process, please visit the GHP Web Page at:
